

Company Fact Sheet

Solidigm (saa-luh-dime) is a leading global provider of innovative NAND flash memory solutions. Our origin reflects the breakthrough innovations of Intel's memory business and the longstanding leadership and scale of SK hynix.

We believe our new paradigm for solid-state data storage will make us the global leader in NAND. This is reflected in our name – a combination of the words “solid” and “paradigm.”

We are the only data storage player offering both Floating Gate and Charge Trap Flash NAND technologies, allowing us to offer customers their choice of cost, performance, and density.

We believe in the unlimited potential of data – we are committed to maximizing our impact by unleashing data to fuel human advancement.

We are a U.S. company with global impact. Solidigm is actively investing in U.S. R&D and creating 900 additional high-paying jobs through 2024.
